RE: Senate Bill (SB) 769 (Hill), As Amended May 26, 2017
Position: Oppose

The Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (AICCU) respectfully writes in opposition to SB 769 by Senator Hill, as amended May 26, 2017, which would increase the California Community Colleges baccalaureate degree pilot program established by SB 850 (2014) prior to the pilot program being fully implemented or evaluated.

SB 769 would increase the number of community college pilot programs as authorized by SB 850 (2014) from 15 to 25 and creates duplication of programs across California's segments of higher education.

The California Master Plan for Higher Education recognizes four segments of higher education, including the private, nonprofit sector, which were the first higher education institutions established in the state. In fact, the Master Plan states, "The Master Plan Survey Team recognizes the great contribution private colleges and universities have made and will continue to make to the state. It has included these institutions in the recommended state-wide co-ordinating agency with the opportunity for an authentic voice bearing on policies directly affecting their welfare."

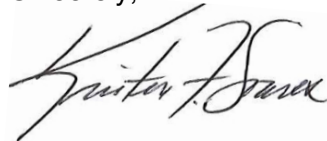

AICCU represents 79 private, nonprofit WASC-accredited private, nonprofit colleges and universities, which collectively educate almost as many undergraduates as the University of California. These students not only reflect the diversity of California, but also enjoy the highest 4-year graduation rates in the state. Using the existing capacity of the state's private, nonprofit colleges and universities saves the state money, as the only state monies that are used in our sector are from students who choose to use their Cal Grant award at an AICCU campus and because the state would not bear the brunt of significant startup costs of new programs in the public sector.

We respectfully urge that instead of expanding SB 850, before the program has been fully implemented or evaluated, that we use the existing capacities of the private, nonprofit colleges and public 4-year universities.
